

ATLASSIAN

Our Story

Atlassian has been passionately working to create visually striking content, a memorable live show with healthy amounts of improvisation that not only solidifies the band's professional skills but proves they are worthy of the praise they get. Atlassian is a perfect listen for fans of The Killers, Lord Huron, Kings Of Leon, Wilderado, and Briston Maroney.

The band began in the winter of 2015 when Nickolas Kossup and Anthony Belcaro were playing early acoustic versions of their songs. In 2021 the band really began to blossom with the addition of their long-time musical confidant and lead guitarist Aaron Brown of the band Saint Slumber. A fuller sound and visual aesthetic were needed and was finally resurrected when they asked Art Director and bassist Dave Meyers to help make their vision come alive.

The Numbers

	Our song 'Howl' went viral on TikTok with over 1 million views		We gained 5000+ followers organically from our viral video
	100k plays on Spotify in 2022		Gained 2825 followers and were added to over 3000 playlists
	Our video for 'Howl' was shared by BarstoolU and was viewed 1.6 million times		We gained 1000+ followers on Instagram and Facebook

The Reviews Are In

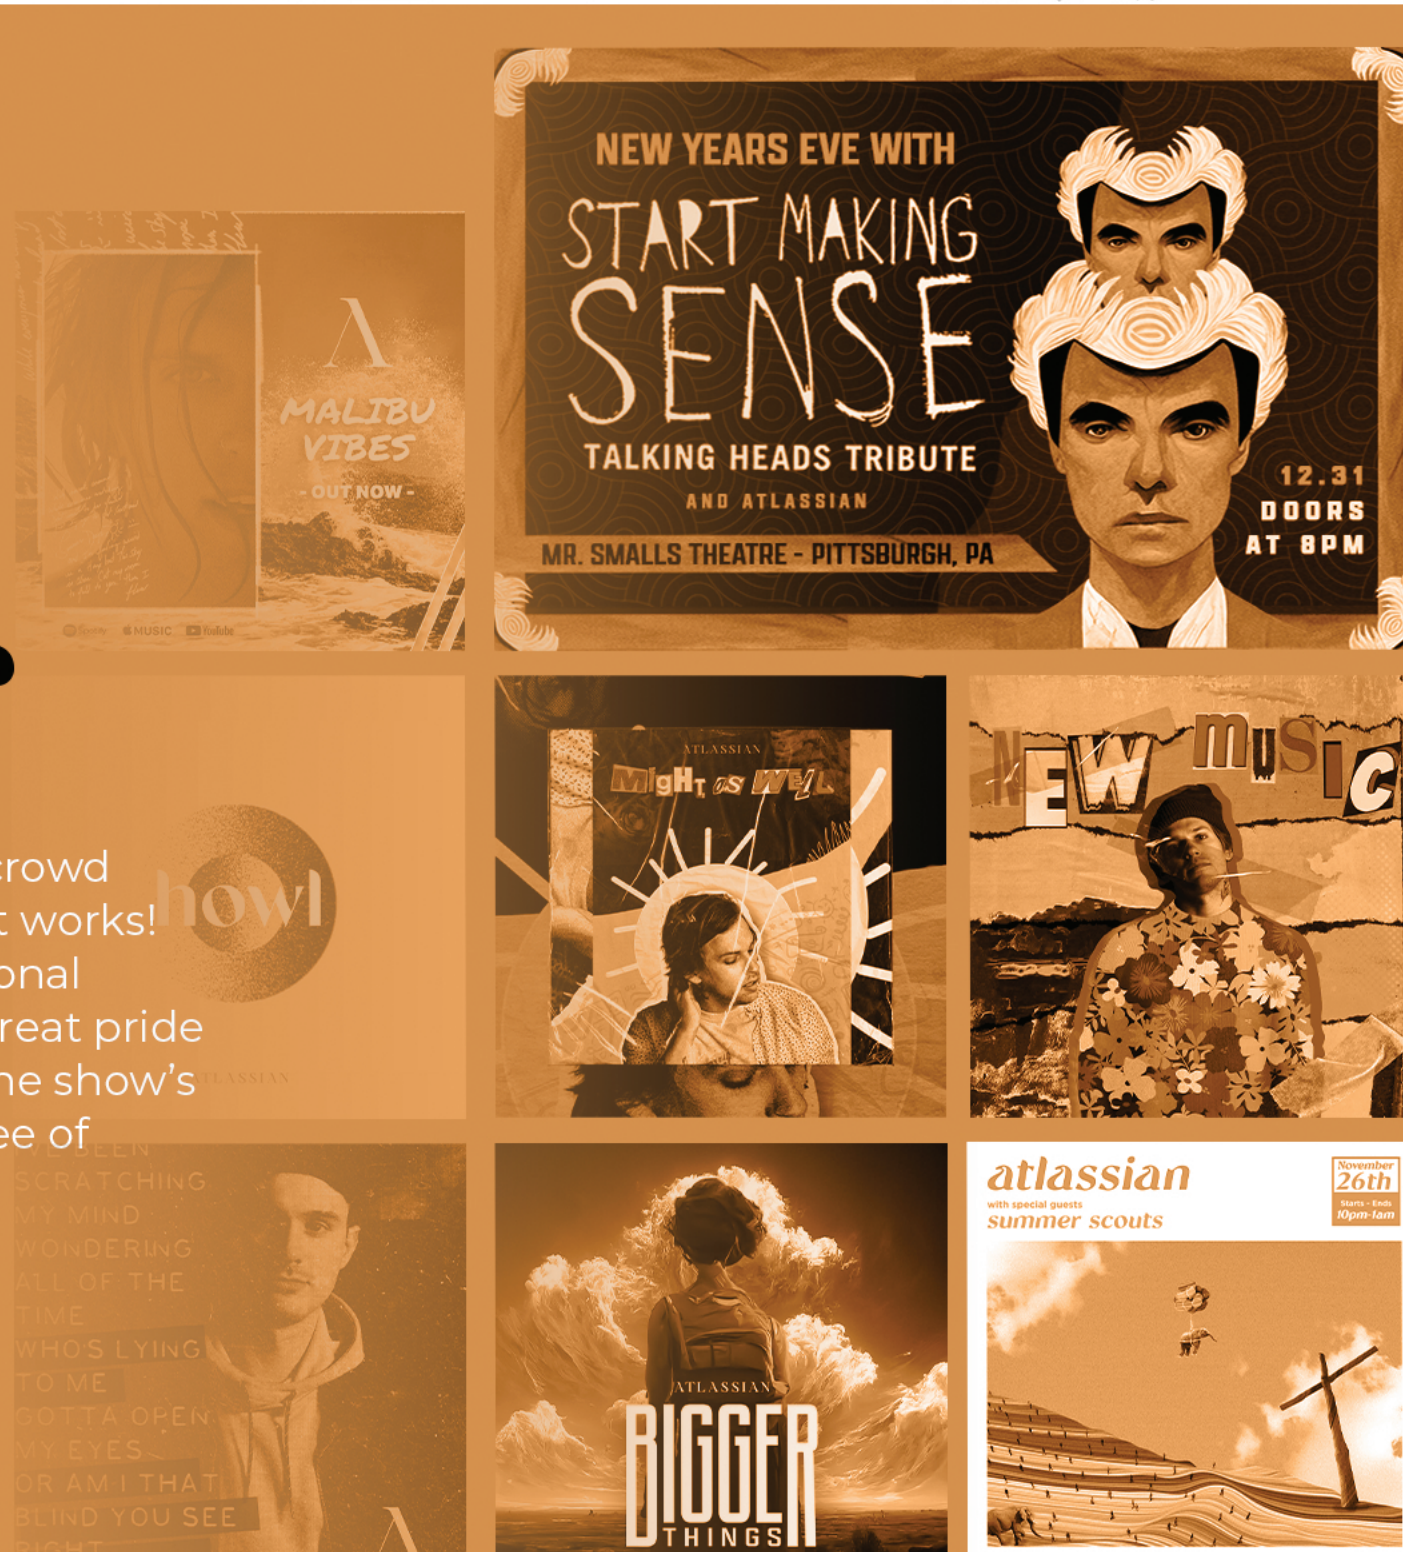

We have recieved hundreds of positive comments from incredible fans on tiktok about our music. It is these people that fuel the fire in our bones to keep pushing as hard as we can.

What We Can Offer

Aside from a stellar performance and a great crowd we can offer you marketing free of charge that works! Dave Meyers and Nickolas Kossup are professional graphic designers and art directors. We take great pride in producing tons of marketing materials for the show's we play. This includes motion/static/print all free of charge to the venue.

Check out Instagram to see our work →

Our References

Matt Picone - Director of Fractal Audio (works with names like U2, Metallica, Coldplay)
matt.picone@fractalaudio.com

John Rupp - Manager of Boyce Avenue and the Struts ftwmanagement.jr@gmail.com

John Braun - Leader of Start Making Sense
jpakalolo@gmail.com

Links

Website and Socials:

Official Website
TikTok
Instagram
Facebook

Spotify:

Click To Listen

Music Videos:

Click To Watch

Viral Videos:

Tik Tok - 650K Views
Instagram - BarstoolU - 1.6M Views